Hi Emma

Many thanks for your email.

I have searched our email records here and cannot find any record of receiving the consultation above.

As the Environment Agency are not a statutory consultee for CIA Screening applications, we are unable to comment at this stage. Please consult us on the EIA Scoping Consultation as we will wish to review and comment then.

With best wishes,

Please accept my thanks for your email in advance – it is estimated that each UK adult sending one less 'thank you' email per day would save more than 16,400 tonnes of carbon per year. This is equivalent of taking 3,334 diesel cars off the road.
